HASSELL IN CRASH AFTER HIS TAKEOFF

"Greater Rockford" is Wrecked at Start of Stockholm Flight

Rockford, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Backers of Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer on their proposed flight to Stockholm, Sweden, announced today another attempt would be made within three weeks despite the disaster which halted the first attempt at dawn today when the "Greater Rockford" airplane crashed in a corn field less than a half hour after a take-off from the airport here.

The wrecked plane will be taken to the Stinson factory at Northville, Mich., tonight, rebuilt and made ready for another flight sometime in August, the Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the flight made known after a meeting today.

Rockford, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—After setting away to a perfect start on its projected flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden, the monoplane, "Greater Rockford" landed 26 minutes after early today in a cornfield six miles from the airport and on the opposite side of the Rock River from the takeoff.

A wing was cracked and other damage done as a result of the landing caused the pilots said, by too heavy a load with resulting inability to gain altitude. As a result future plans for the flight today were indelinite.

With the plane lying nose down, its engine in the ground and the left wing ruined, six miles west of Rockford, pilots Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer were taken back to the airport following their successful take-off and unavoidable plunge to earth due they said to excessive weight and loggy air conditions.

Neither Hassell or Cramer was hurt when forced to alight in a corn field 26 minutes after they hopped off at 4:49 a. m.

Hassell declared he would try it again, but it was believed that another attempt even if the plane were repaired would be out of the question, and flight in a new plane was considered exceedingly doubtful.

After the original take-off the flyers headed west but were unable to make the altitude necessary to clear hills on the opposite side of Rock River. Before landing they tried again to urge the plane upward, but without success.

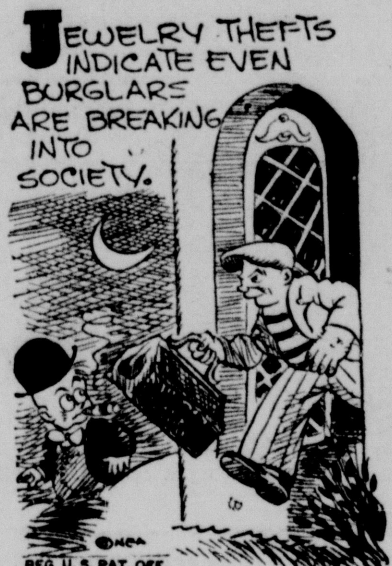

Hassell announced several days ago that unless the start were made before August 7, it would be impossible to make the flight because northern days were coming too short. While the exact damage to the plane has not been determined, the fact that it is on its nose and with at least a cracked wing caused mechanics to estimate that it would take at least several days to recondition the ship.

Both Hassell and Cramer were spirited away after the plane landed and they could not be found immediately to discuss future plans. Hassell's wife said that he was greatly disappointed at the forced landing but added that Cramer seemed in good spirits. She herself said she was both disappointed and relieved.

The Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the proposed flight called a meeting for today to consider the situation.

It was reported some of the backers wanted to send the plane back to the factory, have it rebuilt and make another attempt. However, Hassell said the flight would have to be made before Aug 7 since after that time Arctic conditions would not be satisfactory.

GUARD ITALIANS BEING RETURNED THROUGH NORWAY

Nobile And Other Survivors of Italia Fear Demonstration

Rome, July 26.—(AP)—Italy is sending two new air planes to Spitzbergen to assist in the work of the Russian icebreaker Krassin in further searches for the Amundsen party and the six men of the Italia still missing.

The craft are hydro-airplanes of 500 horsepower.

They are to be placed aboard the Krassin and transported to Kings Bay. The machines have folding wings which make their shipping comparatively simple.

It is understood that the planes are better adapted for landings on small patches of water than the larger machines hitherto at Spitzbergen.

COMBING ARCTIC WATERS
Oslo, Norway, July 26.—(AP)—Four vessels are now exploring the waters between Spitzbergen, Bear Island and Greenland in an effort to find the missing Amundsen party. These waters have hitherto not been reconnoitered thoroughly, most of the searching being done east of Spitzbergen.

The vessels are the Norwegian cruiser Tordenskjold, the Norwegian surveying vessel Michael Sars and the French cruiser Strassbourg as well as the dispatch boat Quantin Roosevelt.

With the French and Norwegian ships exploring west of Spitzbergen and the Russian ice breaker Sedov ordered to explore the region around Franz Joseph Land east of Spitzbergen, the entire waters on which the Amundsen plane may have come down will be combed.

GUARD AT GANGPLANK
Oslo, Norway, July 26.—(AP)—A seaman with fixed bayonet was placed on guard at the gangplank of the Citta di Milano today when the vessel docked at Narvik with the survivors of the Italia disaster. Onlookers at the docks regarded this move with astonishment.

When the ship arrived early this morning comparatively few people were on hand although many had waited until late last night.

When the mooring rope was thrown ashore no assistance was forthcoming in fastening the rope and one of the Italian ship had to jump ashore to do it.

No Norwegian authorities were present on the quay. A representative of the Italian legation at Stockholm greeted the survivors and three Swedes who had taken part in the sledge expedition to search for Roald Amundsen's missing party.

The spectators had a glimpse through a port hole of General Umberto Nobile's dog Titiana. As soon as the ship's crew observed this the port hole was immediately covered. The guard was stationed as soon as the gangplank was lowered.

None Appeared on Deck
None of the rescued men appeared on the deck. Many American motion picture photographers and foreign and Norwegian journalists gathered on the quay.

The survivors will continue their journey to Italy by train this evening and a special carriage will drive up by the ship's side to take them straight from the vessel to the station.

The railway over which they will travel only passes a few miles through Norwegian territory and then runs into Sweden.

The Italian rescue plane Marino 1 arrived from Tromsø last night with part of the Swedish rescue expedition, returning from Spitzbergen. The expedition included the leader, Captain Tordenskjold.

The Swedish flyers were welcomed enthusiastically by a great crowd. The Marino is returning to Tromsø immediately.

Worry over the failure of an attempted reconciliation with his estranged wife is thought by his parents to have promoted his attempt at self-destruction, as he had brooded continually the past few days, they say, and this week he had refused to eat or get out of bed until yesterday, when he partook of two hearty meals.

Just before the supper hour he arose and went out into the yard where he stayed for some time. Returning he passed through the living rooms and spoke to his mother and 14-year-old daughter Fern, a child of a former marriage, which had ended in a divorce, and went into his bedroom.

A few minutes later the two heard a shot and rushing into the room they found the young man on the bed with the revolver in his hand and blood streaming from the wound in his breast.

QUITS CHANNEL SWIM
Port Patrick, Scotland, July 26.—(AP)—Miss Mercedes Gleitz, London typist abandoned an attempt to swim the Irish channel between Donaghadee, Ireland, and Port Patrick at five o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Williams and son, Durward, of Battle Creek, Mich., are spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Monte S. Weeks at their home in Grand Detour.

TUNNEY AND HEENEY SET FOR BATTLE

Champion Flew to N. Y. For Title Fight in Yankee Stadium

New York, July 26.—(AP)—Gene Tunney in an amphibian airplane taxied on the Hudson river at 12:55 P. M. today. The heavyweight champion left Speculator at 10:12 A. M. The plane landed in the North River off 90th street and taxied slowly downstream until opposite the Yacht Club at 84th street where the champion landed.

About 1,000 persons, many of them women, were on the Columbia Yacht Club pier when the plane came in sight over Jersey, flew directly over the club house, banked and landed on the water. One of the first to see the plane was Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, who had been striding nervously up and down the pier. Tunney and his companions stepped from the plane, after it had taxied near the pier, to a speed-boat which carried them the rest of the way.

Brother Meets Him
Tunney was greeted on the pier by his brother, Detective Thomas Tunney of the police force. The champion was dressed in a Scotch plaid suit with cap to match. He waived to the crowd and then sped away in an automobile to the home of a friend.

He declined to say who this friend was, explaining that he wanted to remain in seclusion during the day and get as much rest as possible before his fight at the Yankee Stadium tonight with Tom Heenev, his New Zealand challenger.

HEENEY IS HEAVY
New York, July 26.—(AP)—Tom Heenev will have an advantage of 11 1-2 pounds over Gene Tunney, the champion, in their heavyweight championship fight tonight.

FLIES TO NEW YORK
Speculator, N. Y., July 26.—(AP)—Gene Tunney took off from Lake Pleasant in a dual motor Sikorsky Amphibian at 10:12 A. M. this morning for New York, where he will defend his world's heavyweight title against Tom Heenev of New Zealand, tonight in the Yankee Stadium.

The champion was accompanied by W. O. McCrehan, New York sports writer and Charles V. Bob of New York, his millionaire friend and owner of the plane. Bill Winston, Curtiss Field pilot, was at the controls, and Louis Bunnell, Sikorsky plant mechanic, was also aboard.

Give Gene a Send-off
Every man, woman and child in Speculator gathered at the edge of the lake to wish Tunney success as he entered the plane. The champion, who arose at 7 o'clock, his usual hour, and his well wishers that he was in the best physical shape of his career and he was confident that he would dispose of Heenev.

Winston made a perfect takeoff and, after the plane cleared the water, it circled the lake twice and then disappeared over Speculator Mountain in an eastward direction.

The pilot said he would attempt to land in the Hudson river near 84th street, in about two hours. Tunney will be picked up at that spot and will be taken to the Madison Square Garden, where he has an engagement to weigh in for the titular bout at 2 p. m.

Rest Until Evening
When this formality has been completed, he will go to a hotel where he will have a mid-afternoon dinner, after which he will rest until it is time for him to start for the Yankee stadium.

Early this morning, Bob and Winston who were injured here more than a week ago when their plane crashed into a tree while taking off from the fairway on the Hamilton Country Club golf course, returned to the links and made a successful take-off in a plane owned by the millionaire. Bob explained that he attempted this dangerous stunt to silence friends who had been "kidding" him about the mishap. Tunney was in a cheerful mood when he entered the plane. He said he slept soundly during the night.

W. E. Butterfield
Died In California
A telegram from Cal Butterfield, of Hollywood, Calif., former proprietor of the Natchez Tavern announces the death of his father, W. E. Butterfield, last night. The funeral will be in Hollywood on Saturday, with burial there.

Mr. Butterfield was also a resident of Dixon for some time and had many friends here who will be saddened to learn of his death.

DR. SHELDON OF ASHTON DIED OF HEART FAILURE

Coroner's Jury Finds That Death Was From Natural Causes

Coroner F. M. Banker of Franklin Grove Wednesday afternoon conducted an inquest into the death of Dr. E. M. Sheldon of Ashton, who was found dead in his room over the Smith Pharmacy in that city early in the morning by Orville Smith, there being every indication that death had resulted from heart trouble, some time during the very early morning hours. The verdict was in accordance with the above facts.

Was Veteran Doctor.
Dr. Sheldon, who had passed the age of 76, had been in poor health for three or four years, but he had refused to retire from his practice and was on the street every day, greeting his many Ashton friends.

Dr. Sheldon was of May 16, 1852 and married January 19, 1898 to Miss Mae Strickfaden of Harrington, Ill., who preceded him in death Jan. 22, 1913. He went to Ashton in the early eighties where he engaged in the practice of medicine successfully.

He is survived by two daughters—Miss Vera, who holds a state position in Wisconsin, and Glendore—and a sister, Mrs. Mary Parsell of Auburn, N. Y. Pending receipt of word from the relatives no arrangements for the funeral had been made at an early hour this morning.

SHERIFF MILLER TO RID LEE OF SLOT MACHINES

Gambling Devices Being Picked Up By Sheriff's Office

Another campaign against the operation of slot machines in Lee county was launched yesterday afternoon when Sheriff Ward Miller visited several places in the vicinity of Dixon and then returned to the county jail with a car load of the machines. It was reported that complaints which have been registered with the state's attorney and sheriff's offices has resulted in the confiscation of the machines.

Quarter machines are taboo according to Sheriff Ward Miller and will be seized wherever found. Machines which are not of the vending type and are classified as gambling paraphernalia, are also to be removed. A number of places about the city were visited by the sheriff last evening and proprietors were warned of the operation of the machines.

It was rumored today that the latest move against the slot machine was to be county wide in its scope and with a view of ridding the county of the nuisances as rapidly as possible.

Killed Son, Shot Wife And Daughter Then He Suicides

Chicago, July 26.—(AP)—After killing his son and wounding his wife and daughter during a family row in his home today, Evar Jansson, a janitor, shot and killed himself.

The shooting, police said, culminated a quarrel between Jansson and his wife. As he shot her the children, a girl, 14, and a boy, 12, ran to the rear porch. Their father followed them, seizing his son and holding him while he fired. He shot the daughter as she ran to her grandparents next door.

Jansson then went back to his home, swallowed a dose of poison and shot himself three times. He was a part owner of the building where he lived.

One Dead, Two May Die Because Driver Failed to See Train

Bloomington, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—One youth is dead and two may die following an accident in which their car sped into a moving freight train here last night. Clarence Tobin, 22, of Bloomington, Ill., died a few hours after the crash. Charles James, 20, Normal, Ill., has a fractured skull and John Rayburn, 22, has a broken neck. Both may die.

The boys, driving to Champaign last night, did not see the train.

RAILROAD KILLED
Danville, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Lynn Morgan, 55, for many years a railroad man in Chicago was killed when hit by an automobile here last night two days after he had come here to work. Officials have been unable to locate his sister who lives in Chicago. Her name is unknown.

VETERAN EDITOR DEAD
Knoxville, Tenn., July 26.—(AP)—Captain William Rule, for more than fifty years editor of the Knoxville Journal and believed to have been the oldest active editor in the country, died today following an operation for appendicitis.

CHAUTAUQUA SPIRIT REVIVED IN DIXON; CROWDS AT PARK

Tonight Is "Guest Night" At The Assembly Park

The old chautauqua spirit of Dixon has been revived. A large crowd was present at both sessions yesterday. Woman's Club Day was a decided success and the programs were pleasing and entertaining. All were satisfied. Platform Manager Rev. Rogers has been doing very excellent work in getting the people of this community interested. Rogers has the chautauqua spirit himself. Yesterday afternoon he gave a reception to Sidney W. Landon in which all the club women participated. The platform was filled with ladies who were delighted to have an opportunity to meet Mr. Landon. Programs like the one given last night inspires and there should be more entertainments of a similar character during the year.

Guest Night.
Tonight is guest night and every person holding a season ticket may bring a guest who will be admitted free. This plan insures a large crowd for tonight. Alfred L. Flude will lecture this evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock and he will give, "Fairland of Orient", a very entertaining and instructive piece of work. Flude will please, for he is well equipped to deliver a lecture on the Orient, he having traveled all over the Orient. At 8:30 o'clock the Harp Ensemble Company will give a concert. This will be one of the best concerts given at the chautauqua this season. Everybody likes harp music and when the instruments are played by artists, it is well worth while going to hear. The company will appear twice on the program on Friday, Dixon Day. Mr. Flude interested a large audience this afternoon with his lecture on "Unrest in China". He demonstrated that he is well informed on the problems of that great country.

Friday—Dixon Day.
Everything is all set for Dixon Day at the chautauqua. Judge George D. Alden, for ten years on the bench will lecture both afternoon and evening. His afternoon lecture is, "The Powder and the Match". His evening subject is, "Altitudes and Visibilities".

The Judge has had twelve years experience on the chautauqua and lyceum platform; he has lectured throughout the United States, Canada and New Zealand. He is an orator of great power, noted for his subtle humor, beauty of diction, clear and incisive thinking.

The Harpists will give several concerts. These concerts are of a high class. All in all Friday's program will be one of the best. Be sure and attend the chautauqua on Friday.

KRASSIN AGAIN IN RESCUE ROLE AIDING STEAMER

A German Passenger Ship Struck Rock—Report No Danger

Oslo, Norway, July 26.—(AP)—Having struck a rock in Bell Sound, Spitzbergen, the German motorship Monte Cervantes with 1500 passengers aboard including two Americans was stated in wireless messages to be in no immediate danger today.

Krassin To The Rescue
Standing by was the Russian ice-breaker Krassin, which rushed to the aid of the Monte Cervantes yesterday when S. O. S. calls were sent out by the German vessel. The Krassin was about to go to Norway for repairs to damage received in battering her way through the ice floes to rescue seven survivors of the Italia disaster when the appeal for aid was broadcast.

The Monte Cervantes was on a tour of the Spitzbergen region, when the vessel struck the rock, water entered two of its bulkheads. These were being pumped out today.

A diver from the Krassin was lowered into the Arctic waters to examine the damage to the German vessel. It is probable that the Krassin will stand by for two days.

NO DANGER TO SHIP
Berlin, July 26.—(AP)—The head office of the Hamburg south American line in Hamburg today said that passengers aboard the motor ship Monte Cervantes, which struck a rock in Bell Sound, Spitzbergen, were not in danger. The vessel is on a tour, which it will continue.

FORGER CAPTURED
Danville, Ill., July 26.—(AP)—Patrick Roy Garrett, of Newton, was returned here today from Muskegon, Mich., on charges of forgery. His arrest marks the end of a long search, during which time checks forged on the Sugar Creek Creamery Company poured in from four states. Garrett admits the forgeries. He served in the army during the world war in several major engagements.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

STERLING CAR WRECKED

A Buick coupe, owned by George Myers of Sterling, formerly of Dixon, was considerably damaged when it turned over on state route 6, near Prairieville, Tuesday evening. The owner's brother, Val Myers of Sterling, who was alone in the machine, suffered minor cuts about the face.

AMBOY MAN TO FREPORT

Walter R. Derwent of Amboy, well known in Illinois Central Railroad circles, has been appointed traveling engineer for the Wisconsin division of that railroad by J. F. Digan, superintendent, and will dispose of his property in Amboy as soon as he can and move to Freeport to make his future home. He succeeds the late H. B. Bridenbaugh, who died recently as the result of a fall in Freeport, and who was buried in Prairie Rest cemetery at Amboy with Masonic honors.

Mr. Derwent has been in the employ of the I. C. for the past twenty years, and is popular with all the employees on the division. His friends predict unqualified success for him in his new position.

PLAYING STERLING CLUB

About 20 members of the Dixon Country club went to Sterling this afternoon to engage in one of the series of inter-club matches. The Dixon golfers will be guests of the Rock River club members this evening at a 6 o'clock dinner and smoking, following the play.

MILLER TAKES AGENCY

Joe E. Miller, one of the pioneers in the automobile industry in Dixon, has re-entered the sales field locally. Announcement was made today of his taking over the Chrysler and Plymouth agency for this locality and he will establish a sales and display room at his building at 218 East River street. His son, Leo Miller will be associated with him in the firm which will be known as the J. E. Miller Company. Announcement of the receipt of a complete line of the new models and the date of the formal opening will be made later. Some of the new models have been received and are now being demonstrated. The agency will also be equipped with a complete service and parts department.

U. S. MARINES BOMB SANDINO CAMP ON HONDURAN BORDER

Managua, Nicaragua, July 26.—(AP)—American Marine flyers were believed today to have inflicted a number of casualties on the bodyguard of General Augustino Candino, insurgent leader.

Three of the five planes which sought out the insurgent position near the Honduran border were struck by rebel rifle and machine gun fire. The damage was not considered serious.

The Marines met the attack with machine guns, rifles and bombs, showering the insurgent camp.

The air squadron was led by Major Ross E. Rowell, Chief of the Marine Air Service in Nicaragua, and by Major L. M. Bourne, Jr., who will succeed him shortly, hopping off from Managua, they headed for the district a few miles south on the Honduran border near the confluence of the Poteca and Coco rivers. A week ago planes flying over that region had been fired upon without result and this attack gave the Marines the location of the rebel position.

Camp Opens the Battle
As the airmen flew over the camp, which is a small lumber mill owned by a German named Guicke and had recently been seized by insurgents, they were fired upon. The Marines immediately brought their rifles and machine guns into action, and also dropped bombs on the camp.

Because of the dense growth of the forest it was impossible to learn the damage that had been inflicted. It was believed at headquarters, however, that a number of casualties had resulted.

Tennis And Football Barred By Olympics
Amsterdam, July 25.—(AP)—The international Olympic committee after a hot debate today adopted the proposal advocated by the American representative, General Chas. H. Sherrill, to bar the tennis and football federations from the Olympics because of differences in amateur standards. The vote was sixteen to fourteen.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Atkins has returned from Rockford where they spent the past week visiting their son and wife. Mr. and Mrs. James Atkins, and wife, who were here, Mr. Atkins attended the Mail Carriers Convention.

DEATH TAKES A PROMINENT DIXON MAN

Brilliant Lawyer and Leader in Civic Work Passes Away

Henry S. Dixon, one of Dixon's most prominent and beloved citizens, a great-grandson of Father John Dixon, the founder of this city, died at his home, 503 North Hennepin avenue at 1:55 o'clock this afternoon, his death terminating a long illness, against which he fought valiantly for months, so successfully that only Wednesday did his condition become alarming.

For several months his health had been bad and several weeks ago he was forced to give up his work for a time, but rallied sufficiently to return to his office and resume some of his practice.

Funeral arrangements had not been made at a late hour this afternoon and will be announced later.

Born Here in 1870.
Henry Sherwood Dixon was born in this city August 28, 1870, and he became one of the city's most influential and prominent men, whose death brings profound sorrow to all who knew him. He was educated in the public school of the south side, graduating from high school in June, 1888.

Immediately after his graduation he took employment as a shoe cutter in the local factory of C. M. Henderson & Co., which occupation he followed for several years, subsequently attending Northwestern University and the Kent College of Law in Chicago, graduating from the latter in the class of 1897.

For two years a graduation from the law school, he was employed in the office of the United States District Attorney in Chicago, where he gained most valuable experience in his chosen profession. Returning to Dixon in 1895 he formed a law partnership with the late Solomon H. Bethea, which firm became one of the outstanding in this part of the state. The partnership continued until 1898, after which, for one year, Mr. Dixon practiced alone. In 1899 he formed a partnership with his brother George C. Dixon, which continued until this year, when the latter retired to join the late John E. Erwin in the practice of law.

Head of Big Law Firm.
Mr. Dixon then became the senior member of the present successful firm of Dixon, Devine, Bracken & Dixon, his partners being Representative John P. Devine, Robert L. Bracken of Polo and his son, Sherwood Dixon.

He was married to Miss Margaret C. Casey of Chicago, July 24, 1895, and she with four children survives to mourn the passing of a kindly husband and father, the children being Attorney Sherwood Dixon, Mrs. Geo. T. (Marion E.) Van Nuy and Robert A. Dixon of this city, and Attorney Jerome P. Dixon of Rockford. Two brothers, Louis Dixon of Springfield, and Attorney George C. Dixon of this city also survive.

During his active and productive life in this city Mr. Dixon served his community as alderman from the first ward in 1898-99, Mayor of the city in 1903-04, member of the board of education for many years, and chairman of the Lee county exemption board during the World War, in all of which positions he discharged his duties with unfailing courage, strict integrity and painstaking care, leaving a record of accomplishment of great credit to himself and the city. In 1899 he was appointed Referee in Bankruptcy for the Northern Illinois District United States court, which office he continued to hold until his death.

At the time of his death he was president of the Dixon Loan & Building Ass'n. and a director of the Dixon National Bank.

In politics he was a firm democrat and his advice was always sought by the leaders of his party. He was a faithful communicant of St. Patrick's Catholic church of this city and was an active member of Dixon Council Knights of Columbus and of Dixon Lodge No. 779 B. P. O. Elks.

In every way he was a sterling citizen. His life was one of honest accomplishment, charitable interest in the affairs of his fellow men, and devout love for his family. His friendships included men, women and children in all walks of life and the community experiences an irreparable loss in his passing.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Atkins has returned from Rockford where they spent the past week visiting their son and wife. Mr. and Mrs. James Atkins, and wife, who were here, Mr. Atkins attended the Mail Carriers Convention.

WHICH? .....
Isn't it strange that Princes and Kings
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings
And common folks like you and me
Help to make up Eternity?
To each is given a bag of tools.
A shapless mass and a book of rules.
And each must make, ere life is flown,
A stumblingblock, or a stepping-stone.

SURPRISED MR. AND MRS. H. BENNETT TUESDAY

The N. O. C. card club motored out from Dixon Tuesday evening and completely surprised Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bennett. Mrs. Bennett was aware of their coming, the occasion being the fourteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett. The evening was spent in card playing and with social chat and at a late hour tempting refreshments were served. The club members presented Mr. and Mrs. Bennett with an appropriate gift for the occasion, after which all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bennett many more happy anniversaries.

Prominent Women to See Big Fight

New York, July 26—(AP)—A number of prominent women are listed as ring side seat holders for the heavyweight championship fight tonight between Tunney and Tom Heeney. Among them are: Mrs. James Walker, wife of the Mayor; Mrs. John Hertz, of Chicago; Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, Mrs. Archie Roosevelt, Miss Neysa Nomin (the artist), Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Mrs. Louis G. Kaufmann, Mrs. H. E. Talbot, Mrs. Raymond Baker, Mrs. Charles H. Marshall, Miss Ina Claire and Mrs. Elmer Schelsinger.

CEREUS BLOOMED LAST NIGHT AT GROSE HOME

Mrs. Mary E. Grose, 810 Highland avenue, is the proud possessor of a beautiful night blooming cereus which came into full bloom last night. The flowers, which are numerous, are very large and beautiful and many friends and neighbors last evening viewed the first opening of the big buds.

REBEKAHS WILL MEET TOMORROW EVENING

There will be a regular meeting of the Minnie Bell Rebekah Lodge Friday evening.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY.
BREAKFAST—Bartlett pears, cereal, cream, liver and bacon cakes, Graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Ham timbales, potatoes au gratin, endive with French dressing, grandmother's raspberry pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Veal birds, creamed carrots, tomato and cucumber salad, apple pie, milk, coffee.

Grandmother's Raspberry Pudding.
One quart berries, 1 cup sugar, one-third cup water, bread, butter.

Combine sugar and water and melt over a low fire. Add berries and simmer 20 minutes. In the meantime cut thin slices of bread, trim off crusts and spread with softened butter. Butter a bowl or pudding dish and fill with alternate layers of bread and berries, making the first and last layers of bread. Press firmly so that the bread will absorb the berry syrup. Chill for several hours. Unmold when ready to serve and serve with whipped cream.

Polo Young Man is Wed in Rockford

Miss Alice M. Powers of Rockford became the bride of Everett G. Geary of Polo on Saturday afternoon, at St. Mary's Rectory in Rockford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Thomas P. Birmingham at 4:30 Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Joseph Lyons of Rockford, sister of the bride, and Clarence J. Powers of Freeport, brother of the bride, attended the wedding. Following the ceremony the bride and groom motored to Freeport for a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents. Immediately after the wedding dinner, the bride and groom motored to Chicago for a short visit. They came to Polo Sunday evening.

The bride wore a gown of flowered chiffon, with hat to match, and blonde slippers. The bride's attendant was attired in blue georgette with hat en costume.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Powers of Freeport and received her education in the schools of that city, being graduated from Freeport township high school in the class of 1923. For the past four months she has been a clerk in the Block & Kuhl department store in Rockford.

The bridegroom is a son of Marshal and Mrs. Sam S. Geary of Polo. He attended the rural schools of that community and was a student in Polo community high school. He is employed as mechanic at the Highway Garage in Polo. Mr. and Mrs. Geary will make their home in Polo for the present.

Young Women Stop Here on Long Hike

Two young ladies, hiking from New York City to Yellowstone Park, called at the Chamber of Commerce office, Wednesday afternoon. Misses Anna Fabricant and Beatrice Chester, graduate students of Columbia University, left New York City, July 19th, stopped one day in Chicago, reached Dixon Wednesday about noon. They were able to get auto rides of some 200 miles. The young women expressed themselves as being well pleased with their trip thus far. "You have very fine people here; so willing to assist us with maps and literature covering the route and place of interest on our trip," declared Miss Chester. "We do not meet with such treatment in many places we have been," said the young woman. Both ladies had a fine tan and are having the big time of their young lives.

MRS. MYERS AND MRS. WEISE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Julia E. Myers and daughter Mrs. Hattie Weise entertained at Sunday dinner; Mrs. Minnie Weatherly of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weise of Champaign, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood and several of their friends of Chicago and Mrs. Snyder also of Chicago. After a delightful dinner, Andrew Weise took the party to Lowell Park, Palmyra and through the colony grounds.

Buttermilk Fine For Tightening Sagging Muscles

So many women who failed to get results with high priced astringents have proved the value of buttermilk and cream in gently tightening sagging muscles and firming the skin that they are glad to pass the good word along.
Get the genuine old-fashioned buttermilk and cream already prepared for use by asking at the drug store for Howard's Buttermilk Cream. There must be no doubt about this result or Campbell's White Cross Drug Store is authorized to the return purchase price. Be sure to give this beauty hit a real trial—Adv.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Girls play an amazing part in the day's news. Here's Mrs. Sylvia Thurston, just 17, who killed Doris Ventworth, 16, out in Missoula, Mont., the other day. The girl in jail was married at 15. The two girls, another girl and three boys went joyriding. One girl came back dead to the morgue. The other came back with a discharged revolver to jail. The rest of the crowd explained that the girls quarreled and said they'd get out of the car to "settle it." They did.

SNOLSEN
So many questions. Where are the parents of the girl who elopes and is married at 15? What of the husband if the girl runs off nights joyriding with other youths? What of the gun carried by a 17-year-old Mrs.? Everything should have pointed toward disaster to parents, husband, anyone who should have seen it and who, by not doing so, is as much to blame as the girl.

AND ERNA
And there's Erna Janoschek, 17, of Oakland, Cal., called "The Girl Hickman." Erna playfully strangled to death a year-old baby whom she was hired to watch over. She explained that the baby's mother was getting even. Erna laughs about it, saying that they call her the "Girl Hickman." But singling out these isolated cases and stringing them together as a reflection on all modern girls would be a most asinine thing to do! It's what many a writer and preacher does these days, however.

ON "OLD MAIDS"
And still speaking of girls, Professor Kimball Young of the pedagogical department of the University of Wisconsin insists that "old maids" have no business teaching school. "They tend to be sour and over-sentimental," he says.
For my part, I think a male teacher so obsolete that he uses the word "old maid" and clings to the idea that the mere fact of lack of marriage spoils a personality has no business teaching even the science of education to adult students.

POLEYL PREACH
Miss Pauline Rader, just 21 and freshly graduated, the daughter of Evangelist Paul Rader of Chicago, is on her way to India to convert the heathen. We hope that Miss Rader, aged 21, has a sufficiently rich background of experience and wisdom to tell some wizened heathen of 80 or so just what ails him and just what he needs to do! Youthful preachers at home or abroad rather nauseate me! People have no business to preach till they have lived, a little at least!

ADVERTISING SUGGESTED FOR CLUB PUBLICITY

New Orleans, La. —(AP)— Club publicity "may very properly be obtained through the medium of the advertising pages."

That is the advice presented to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in convention here by its publicity chairman, Eva Hunt Dockery of Boise, Idaho.
"Advertising has been used by some of our clubs, and the occasion of the visit of the national president was seized by a number of clubs as an opportunity for a fine and dignified advertisement, calling attention to some of the ideals of our organization and to special work it has accomplished," Miss Dockery reported.

Advertising tie-ups with "National Business Women's Week" sponsored by the federation, also was suggested by Miss Dockery "to inspire the department stores to stress business women's dress, the cafes business women's diet, the theaters their favorite plays, the shoe men their footwear, etc., in national advertising for that week."

AL SMITH KEEPS HEALTH FIT FOR COMING CAMPAIGN

Democratic Nominee Leverages Details of Plans For Others

Albany, N. Y., July 26—(AP)—When the time comes for Governor Smith to set a fast pace on the campaign stump, he counts on being in tip-top shape for the grind. Leaving organization of his presidential fight largely to others, he is conserving his strength, getting considerable rest and indulging in his favorite sports, golf and swimming as a means of keeping in condition.
Regardless of his retiring hour at night, the Democratic nominee always aims to get in at least eight hours sleep.

If the weather is good, he makes a practice during the afternoon of taking time for a round of golf or a swim.
It is a desire to get plenty of both sports over the week-end that has prompted him to take a few days vacation at Good Ground, Long Island, where he will go Saturday, after stopping off in New York tomorrow night for a conference with Governor Ritchie of Maryland.

To Take Real Rest

In deciding on a brief vacation at the seashore, Governor Smith has determined to keep politics, aside from his scheduled chat with Governor Ritchie, in the background. He plans to forget for a few days, about preparation of the acceptance speech he will deliver on the evening of August 22, and is leaving to a group of assistants arrangements for his notification.

At a meeting held yesterday George B. Graves, Smith's secretary, was made chairman of a committee on arrangements. Attending the meeting at the capitol were Mayor Thatcher, who expects at least one hundred thousand persons here for the ceremony; Edwin Halsey, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Democratic National Committee, and a number of state officials and others who will have part in the management of the affair.

Something like 5,000,000 trees are cut annually for telegraph and telephone wires; we use 5000,000,000 fence posts every year.

ROY O. WEST IN CABINET.

Roy O. West of Chicago has been appointed secretary of the interior to succeed Dr. Hubert Work, who resigned to become chairman of the republican national committee. In Illinois we have known West and his ability during the last quarter of a century. Four years ago he became a national figure as secretary of the republican committee. In that capacity he came into contact with President Coolidge, who was the presidential candidate that year. Apparently he has grown in the estimation of the president, and the appointment is the fruit of that relationship.

As a young man Mr. West entered upon a political career, but he has not held public office since 1898. Since then his activity has been in behalf of others, particularly Senator Deneen and the Deneen organization in Cook county. For nearly thirty years their names have been as one in Illinois. Roy O. West is deserving of a high office to round out a career of usefulness.

It is gratifying to the people of Illinois to furnish a man for a cabinet post, as the state has had little recognition at Washington in the matter of important appointments. In the present administration it has had an assistant secretary of commerce for aviation and an ambassador to Cuba, not very much for the third state in the union in population and a commonwealth strong in her republicanism.

UP 100 STORIES.

A New York architect remarked the other day that 100-story office buildings will be relatively common in a few years.

From the structural viewpoint there probably are no obstacles. It has been demonstrated pretty thoroughly that designers can make steel girders go to almost any height.

But there are such grave objections to the 100-story skyscraper that we doubt very much if it will materialize. Traffic congestion in our major cities is almost unbearable even now. A monster building of 100 stories would treble it. It would concentrate too many people in one spot. The result would be an addition to the traffic stream that would simply paralyze things.

Cities of the future should aim at diffusion of downtown workers, not concentration. The 100-story skyscraper would be fine to look at, but it would be a distinct menace to the city that built it.

Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general of China women loosed from the tight wrappings they have been forced to wear for years. If the Chinese women are like the American, this ought to start quite a craze for foot-binding.

An aviator, to revenge himself upon truck drivers who splashed him with mud at the airport, flew down at the drivers on the road, frightening them into ditching their trucks. Too bad he wasn't a tank driver.

The national chewing gum bill for 1927 was $58,000,000. The figures must be woefully short. The telephone operator who gave us one number this morning had more than that right in her mouth.

The greatest success of Miss Earhart's transatlantic flight, as we see it, was that of her pilot, Mr. Stultz. He has proved to the world that a man can make good even if his name is Wilmer.

Indiana has furnished more magazine and newspaper writers than any other state, says a writer. Maybe it's because Indiana gives its young men plenty to write about.

Al Smith declined to pose laying bricks but Herbert Hoover caught up a day or two later by refusing to kiss a baby.

A woman was hit by lightning on the golf links the other day. It seems there is justice, after all.

Eureka! Just the job for Senator Heflin—president of Mexico!

It seems a shame to wear those bright new red suspenders where they won't show.

The party of New York detectives who went to Chicago on a slaying case probably craved experience.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY MAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

The fairy queen had done real well. The table fairly seemed to swell with heaps of dandy things to eat, and my, but it looked good. Wee Clowny licked his lips and cried, "Come on, let's sit down side by side. And, say, you bunch of Tynmites, please act just as you should."

This made the other Tynmites grin. To think that Clowny should begin to tell the whole crowd what to do, was quite a funny thing. "Just let our manners quite alone," said Scouty. "You'd best tend your own. Why, when it comes to mixing things, you always have your fling."

The fairy then said, "I suggest you stop the arguing. 'Tis best. We'll have more fun if everyone is joyful as can be. I do not like small lads who fight. It isn't fun, and isn't right. I always smile. That's why most everyone's a friend to me." "All right," said Scouty, "that's agreed. And now I really think we need some little stools to sit upon while eating of our lunch. There are a lot of stumps nearby. If you will help, I think that I can saw them off and use them. That's a very brilliant hunch."

The fairy then produced a saw and Coppy loudly shouted, "Aw, this isn't going to be so hard. We'll cut nice stools real quick." And then they sawed some trees trunks loose and shortly they were put to use. As everyone sat down to eat, the bunch thought it was slick.

The meal was on, and my, oh my, the Tynmites soon began to sigh. They ate and ate until it seemed they'd simply have to quit. "Take anything you wish to take," exclaimed the queen, while cutting cake. When you are through you all can snooze until you're feeling fit.

(The Tynmites find a magic grip in the next story).

FOR PORT SIDE GOLFERS
It's easy to play LEFT HAND letter golf regardless of whether you're right or left-handed. Par is four but perhaps you can beat the solution on page 11.

THE RULES

- 1.—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, is three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
  - 2.—You can change only one letter at a time.
  - 3.—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
  - 4.—The order of letters cannot be changed.
- One solution is printed on page 11.

ICEBREAKER ON NEW HUNT FOR AMUNDSEN CREW

Soviet Orders Ship to Cruise Around Franz
Joseph Land

Moscow, July 25—(AP)—The Soviet rescue commission today ordered the icebreaker Sedov, now in Arctic waters, to explore the region around Franz Joseph Land and to push in a northwesterly direction in search of the missing Amundsen group and the six men of the Italia carried off in the dirigible's bag on May 23.

The Sedov is equipped with an airplane and particularly will explore the Cape Flora section, one of the southernmost points of Franz Joseph Land.

The icebreaker Malign anchored this morning off Archangel after returning from an unsuccessful search for the still missing men. Prof. Vize, head of the expedition, immediately left for Moscow to submit a report of the Malign's work.

The rescue ship Krassin, which picked up seven of the Italia's crew, including the Viglieri group off Foin Island, is sailing for Stavanger where it will be overhauled. The rescue commission intends to send by airplane from Leningrad a new chasis and other spare parts for Pilot Chuchkovsky's plane. Then the icebreaker will renew its search.

INSANE MALES IN STATE MORE THAN FEMALES

Decided Decrease in Number of Afflict- ed is Shown

Springfield, Ill., July 26-(AP)—There are more insane men in Illinois than insane women.

This conclusion is drawn from figures in the 1927 report of the U. S. Department of Commerce on the number of patients in the ten Illinois State hospitals, just released for publication.

Total figures indicate that there has been a decided decrease in mental diseases in Illinois, the report said. The report was in part as follows:

"These hospitals had a total of 4,658 first admissions during the year 1927, as compared with 4,353 in 1926 and 5,053 in 1922.

"These first admissions represent patients received during the year, who had not previously been under treatment in any hospital for mental disease. Such newly admitted patients afforded the best available measure of the number of new cases of mental disease which are brought under hospital treatment during a given year.

"The decrease in the number of first admissions to state hospitals in Illinois represents a still larger decrease relative to the population of the state, as shown by the fact that the first admissions in 1927 number 63.8 per 100,000 of population, as compared with 74.9 in 1922.

"The extent to which provision has been made for state treatment of mental patients is indicated by the number of patients present in the state hospitals on a given date. In Illinois, the number of mental patients under treatment in the state hospitals has increased steadily from 19,585 on January 1, 1910, to 20,904 on January 1, 1928; and the ratio of such patients per 100,000 of general population increased from 187.7 on January 1, 1910 to 284.4 on January 1, 1928.

"Of the first admissions in Illinois during the year 1927, 2,918 were males and 1,740 were females; and of the patients present on January 1, 1928, 11,207 were males and 9,697 were females.

East Moline—A photograph of Roald Amundson, Arctic explorer, believed to be the last taken of him before he left on his rescue mission in the possession of Dan Dahlen of East Moline. The picture was sent him by Mrs. Dahlen, who is visiting in Tromsø, Norway, and was taken by Mrs. Dahlen just a short time before Amundson took off for the polar regions.

Moline—After resting in the mud at the bottom of the Mississippi for nearly three-quarters of a century, an 800 pound bell which in 1856 rang the arrival and departure of a steamboat, has been recovered. A government dredge brought the relic to the top.

Galesburg—Three pseudo "Kings of the Air" whom residents of Galesburg believed were eagles but turned out to be Cooper's Hawks, will continue to occupy the fine cage erected for them in Lincoln Park here.

The "eaglets," captured on a Knox county farm and presented to the Lincoln Park zoo, were the center of much admiring attention until unscrupulous entomologists classed them with the hawk family. The park board decided that nevertheless the trio had earned their place of honor between the great brown bear and the great horned owls.

Lincoln—Announcing the special passenger train to carry those who wished to see the dead president's body lying in state at Springfield, a poster issued at the time of Abraham Lincoln's funeral by the Chicago and Alton railroad is owned by Otto Matheln of Lincoln. It is claimed to be the only original of the poster.

The railroad, then known as the Chicago and St. Louis, gave a schedule of excursions for the Lincoln funeral. After announcing the time table, the poster reads:

"The Public are respectfully informed that every facility in the power of the Company will be given for those who may desire to pay their respects to the memory of our late President and illustrious citizen, on this mournful occasion."

THINKS SANDINO WILL NOT CAUSE FURTHER REVOLT

Gen. Feland Believes Rebel General Is Sub- dued At Last

Managua, Nic., July 25-(AP)—Bridier General Logan Feland, commanding the American Marines, believes that the rebel General Augustino Sandino is near the Honduras border with his field of operations small. He thinks that there is small likelihood that the insurgents will be able to cause any further serious disturbance.

Threats that General Sandino intends to conserve his forces until shortly before the national election on November 4 and stage an outbreak to nullify the election are not taken seriously in marine quarters.

Scope Is Limited

"Sometimes Sandino may cross into Honduras, and then return to Nicaragua," General Feland said, "but the scope of his operations is confined to a comparatively small area. The marines are as active as ever, patrolling the northern area and there is little chance that the rebels will be able to cause further serious disturbances. Patrols in both the east and west are tightening their grip, making it exceedingly difficult for Sandino and his followers to enter the populated districts.

"The country may now be said to be tranquil, but there is always the possibility at the smaller bands may break through the patrol, causing some disturbance. Because of this possibility the patrolling continues.

Holiday Reduced Coal Production

Springfield, Ill., July 26-(AP)—One-day's layoff in observance of Independence Day knocked more than 100,000 tons from the weekly coal production of Illinois mines. It was reported today in the weekly statistical review of the bureau of mines, U. S. department of commerce.

State production for the week ending July 7 amounted to 598,000 tons. This is compared to 710,000 tons during the previous six day period. Less of a day's production for the holiday observance, which was general throughout the soft coal field brought the nationwide production down from 8,444,000 tons to 6,830,000 tons. Large decreases were noted in every producing state.

Total production of soft coal for the week ending July 14, including lignite and coal coked at the mines, was estimated at 8,607,000 tons. Statistics by individual producing states were not yet available.

This output is an increase of 1,777,000 tons over that of the holiday week preceding, and 1.9 per cent greater than in the week ending June 30. Production during the week in 1927 corresponding with that of July 14 amounted to 8,245,000 tons.

Tonnage for the week ending July 14 brings the nation's total for 1928 up to 249,726,000 tons, approximately 40,000,000 tons under the mark set at the corresponding date in 1927. For the week ending July 21, a slightly decreased production is indicated on the basis of preliminary telegraphic returns on car loadings for the first two days of the week. Approximately 1,000 less cars had been loaded.

HOOVER WEIGHING THE PROHIBITION ISSUE FOR SPEECH

G. O. P. Nominee Leaves Soon For His Vacation Trip

Stanford University, Cal., July 26.—(AP)—Turning his attention to the second of the two outstanding issues thus far developed in the presidential campaign—that of prohibition—Herbert Hoover is obtaining the views of William J. Donovan, Assistant United States Attorney General, and others on some phases of this subject.

There naturally has been considerable speculation as to just what the Republican presidential candidate is going to say on the question which Alfred E. Smith the Democratic nominee, thrust so prominently into the campaign immediately after his nomination at Houston, but some of Mr. Hoover's advisors say he has not yet made up his mind as to that.

As an index to what may be expected in his reply to the question—surely submitted to him by Senator Borah of Idaho during the pre-convention campaign—and the pronouncement in the Republican platform adopted at Kansas City by almost a unanimous vote.

Noble Experiment

In the one Hoover described prohibition as a "noble experiment" and in the other the party leaders on the big issue—farm aid—and that section of his address is almost in complete form, although the nominee may make some revisions in this as well as other sections after the speech has been put into type.

This is Mr. Hoover's last day for conferences and work for perhaps a week, as tomorrow he will go to San Francisco for the homecoming celebration at the city hall there, and early Saturday morning he will start for the extreme northern part of his home state for fishing and recreation.

On this outing the nominee will forget politics and political speeches and to that reason he has declined the many invitations he has received from various points in California and Oregon for receptions. He wants to lose his identity as a presidential candidate for a few days.

By L. WINFIELD KOHN, M. D., New York City, Member Gorgas Memorial

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Gorgas Memorial, which has its headquarters at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

One form of poisoning which results now and then is that spoken of as Botulism. It is due to the eating of foods contaminated with the toxins produced by the so-called Bacillus Botulinus, a germ. This germ may be found in meats, vegetables, and fruits. Occasionally it will be found in improperly canned foods.

Food which is infected with this germ will as a rule exhibit a cheesy odor and an unpleasant taste, and the mouth and tongue lining will sense a soft slimy feeling. Poisoned food will usually also evidence a change in color, different from their normal appearance.

The symptoms of such poisoning are nausea, vomiting, abdominal pain, and general weakness to the point of prostration. Other manifestations indicating toxicity are difficulty in swallowing, languidness, difficulty in talking, and finally paralysis of such functions as respiration and heart action. Botulism is a severe affection and is accompanied by a high death rate. Fortunately, the precautions now exercised by the packing houses and industries in the preparation and packing of foods staves off the frequency of its occurrence. The work performed by the city health department, in association with the food dealers, in preventing such calamitous occurrences is to be commended.

When disease does occur, the sooner it is recognized the better. The earlier treatment is instituted, the better are the patient's chances of recovery. Treatment is specially directed toward an elimination of the toxins from the body and at the same time a proper supporting treatment must be given to overcome the extreme prostration. In some instances, an anti-toxin may be used successfully.

A most important essential thing is to caution people against eating improperly prepared food and to use particular care as to canned foods. Any canned food that tastes different from what is ordinarily expected or has a color or appearance that is different from what it ordinarily should be, must not be eaten at all. Another important point to remember is that, once a can of food is opened, the contents should be quickly and entirely removed and not allowed to remain in the open can. Upon opening a can, always smell the food and if the odor is questionable, do not eat it. If the food looks frothy or fermentative, be suspicious of it. Observations of this sort should become a habit of the ordinary housewife.

NEW DEVICE WILL SEND AUTOMATIC S O S CALL

Paris—(AP)—An automatic wireless signal that will send out at intervals the position of an airplane and S O S signals has been invented by M. Chauveau, a Paris electrician. Knobs corresponding to longitude and latitude are set easily and quickly in a frame, a lever is pushed and the position is broadcast in the Morse code, and will be repeated until the pilot stops it. The position signals can be made to alternate with the S O S call if the plane is in distress.

ETTELSON ASKS TO QUASH PAY-ROLL SUBPOENA

Claims His Records Cannot Be Taken Legally to Grand Jury

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—A fight over subpoenaing the payroll records of corporation counsel Samuel Ettelson before the special election frauds grand jury loomed today when Frank J. Loesch, special assistant attorney general in charge of the grand jury, declared he personally would go before Chief Justice William V. Brothers and oppose Ettelson's motion to quash the payroll subpoenas.

Mr. Ettelson maintained his records could not legally be taken before the grand jury in his motion against the subpoena, adding however that he would permit the grand jury to visit his offices to inspect the records there. Loesch described this suggestion as "not understandable," saying the grand jury could not go to the corporation counsel's office.

A second attempt to quash a special grand jury indictment was frustrated, temporarily at least, this morning when Judge Joseph B. David declined to hear arguments on the motion to quash and ordered it sent back to the chief justice for re-assignment. The motion was in behalf of Albert Braverman, aid of Morris Eller, 20th ward political leader, who seeks to quash the indictment against him for election day kidnapping.

Braverman contended the special election grand jury was not legal because a regular jury is in session, invalidating the special grand jury's indictments.

A bolt of lightning struck the metal ridgepole on the porch roof and dividing in two descended down the two end posts to the ground. The jolt threw Bill off the porch and rendered him unconscious for an instant.

Mrs. Bertha Bresson and Lucille Vincent returned home from DeKalb Saturday where they have completed their summer courses at the state teachers school.

Irvin Knauer returned home from Springfield Saturday where he had been in attendance at the inter-county town guard shoot. He was representing this county as third rifleman and second on pistol. Out of a possible score of 200 in the rifle shoot he shot 163 putting him in fifth place in the state.

His score was as follows:
200 yard, standing, slow fire.....35
200 yard, standing, rapid fire.....46
300 yard, prone, slow fire.....41
500 yard, prone, slow fire.....41
His score in the pistol shoot was 72 out of a possible 100.

25 yard, slow fire.....44
15 yards, rapid fire.....23
The total for the county team was 457 out of a possible 600 and speaks well for men who were inexperienced until but a few weeks ago.

Misses Helen and Ruth Mackin returned home from Dixon Saturday, after having worked in the shoe factory for the past few months.

Amel Henry drove down from Dixon Saturday and brought Edward Henry along back with him.

Mrs. Mabel Devine returned to her home at Calumet City after visiting for a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gehant, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Snyder were down from Dixon and spent a few days of their vacation at the home of Mrs. Mary Gehant.

Miss Clara McCune was up from Sterling Friday and spent the day at the home of Miss Violet Kuehna.

Edward Breson drove to Rochelle Tuesday and spent the day on business.

Halbmaier and Miller had a car load of sheep shipped in the latter part of the week and took them out to their farm.

Miss Louise Kehm, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kehm and Christ Mossiman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Mossiman, both of Viola township, were united in marriage at Dixon Wednesday at high noon. The double ring service was performed by Judge William Leech and the couple were attended by Miss Helen Mossiman, a sister of the groom and Ralph Kehm, a brother of the bride.

The bride was gowned in a blue flat crepe dress with blond hose and slippers, while the bridesmaid wore a dress of light flat tan crepe. Both men were attired in gray.

Immediately following the service, a breakfast was enjoyed in the city and then the happy couple left for a sojourn in the west which will consume about two weeks. Upon their return they will start housekeeping in the vicinity of their homes. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

Greatest advance in motoring comfort since balloon tires... STUDEBAKER'S Ball Bearing Spring "Shackles"

In these new cars a patented invention at last solves a problem that has long baffled automotive engineers.

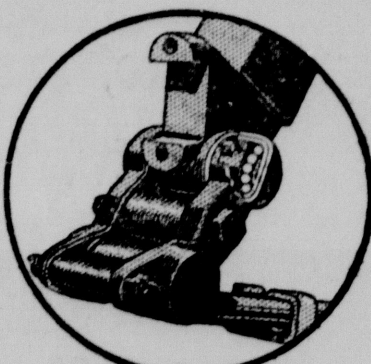

Every motorist knows the importance of spring shackles—those joints or hinges which form the connecting link between body and axles. Engineers have sought to reduce friction to a minimum at these vital joints—to make them flexible yet firm and uniform in action—to make them noiseless—to reduce the necessity for frequent lubrication. All these objectives have now been attained in Studebaker cars.

So revolutionary is this sensational innovation that the word "shackles," with its implication of restricted movement, is no longer applicable. The incessant action and reaction between body and axles is now carried by 172 steel balls rolling in lubricant—no binding, no squeaks, no rattles, no sideways. Instead, smooth, silent resiliency, an undeviating uniformity of action and an enduring buoyancy that will keep your Studebaker young.

In place of complicated centralized systems for oiling and greasing, each ball bearing spring "shackle" contains, sealed within it, ample lubricant to last for more than twenty thousand miles.

Come ride in a new Studebaker today. Thrill to its champion performance. See rare new beauty of line and color. Then compare Studebaker's new low One-Price prices—the triumph of 76 years' manufacturing experience!

At last... ball bearing spring shackles... the secret of the remarkable riding comfort of the new Studebakers.

DIXON PRO SHOT 79 IN WESTERN OPEN TOURNEY

Earl Howell is One of Eleven Who Required That Many

Earl Howell, "pro" at the Dixon Country Club, was one of eleven golfers who shot 79 in the qualifying round of the Western Open in Chicago yesterday, in which round Bill Tender of Anderson, Ind., and Phil Hesler of Bristow, Okla., tied with identical cards for the lead—36-34-70. Par of the North Shore course, where the tournament is under way, is 36-36-72.

One golfer in the meet turned in a 71, five made 73, six shot 74, five had cards of 75, one a 76, ten took 77, and eight required 78 to lead the group of eleven of which the Dixon pro is one.

At the end of the day's play eighty-six players rested with scores from 70 up to 83 inclusive, more than half the 150 that will qualify as a result of yesterday's and today's play for the second eighteen holes Friday. It is quite probable that some, if not all, of the 83s will be eliminated, as today's list includes many sharpshooters.

Farrell Plays Today.
Among them will be Johnny Farrell of New York, national open champion, who will take Gene Sarazen's place as a playing companion with Jack Hutchinson of Glenview. Sarazen is suffering with ennuil, or some other fancy ailment, and withdrew.

Other stars playing today will be Al Espinosa of the Illinois club, Chick Evans of Edgewater and possibly Bob MacDonald. Bob is entered, but reports last night were to the effect that he had gone to Toronto for the Canadian open, which started yesterday.

Another wild rumor was that Walter Hagen, present Western open champion and victor yesterday over Archie Compston in a return challenge match, would arrive in Chicago tomorrow in time to defend his title. It is physically possible for "The Hag" to make the trip, but that's all the tournament committee knows about the situation.

Trouble For Everybody.
Practically all of the players, even the two leaders, encountered trouble. Eddie Cayer of Twin Orchard had five birdies in eleven holes and finished with 36-39-75. Extra putts and a couple of misjudged shots accounted for his sudden lapse.

Art Sweet, Ridgemoor amateur, who usually is among the low men, wound up his day's labors with 39-43-82. The journalist golfer was in a bunker at the twelfth hole, where he required eight swats to sink the ball. After that Art, too, suffered an attack of ennuil, as far as low scoring was concerned.

Tinder was first to score the record mark of 36-34-70. He was short on his second shots at the first, fourth and tenth holes; had birdies at the second, seventh, ninth, thirteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth holes, where putts, mostly sizeable in variety, dropped with alacrity. At the seventeenth hole Bill was in a trap but got out and made his par, while at the eighteenth he performed a similar stunt from a clump of trees. Tinder's card:
Out ..... 5 4 3 5 5 4 4 3 3-36
In ..... 5 4 5 2 4 4 2 4 4-70

Hesler lost a stroke at the third, where he was trapped, and another at the sixth, where he flopped on a seven-foot putt. These were neutralized, however, by birdies at the fifth and seventh.

Hesler Holes Chip.
Coming home, Phil holed a chip shot for a birdie at the twelfth, and a fifteen-foot putt at the thirteenth for another. He also had a birdie at the fifteenth, 501 yards, where he was on the green in two and took two putts. At the seventeenth the

HEENY EXPECTS GENE TO BE EASY MEAT FOR PUNCH

Challenger Confident He'll Defeat Champ This Evening

Associated Press Sports Writer BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Fairhaven, N. J., July 26-(AP)—"I never felt better in my life," said Tom Heeny today.

The challenger was clear eyed and good humored, after a restless night's sleep, his handlers said he dropped off into a sound slumber a few minutes after he crawled between the sheets. He went to bed at 10 o'clock, as has been his custom but slept later than usual.

The time of departure to New York was held secret because of the desire to avoid any demonstration. Members of his training retinue said he would make the trip on the speed boat Crissie.

"I'll have no alibis if I'm beaten," Heeny said.

As to his plans of battle he has none. He expects to catch on to Tunney's style within two or three rounds. He expects to fight his fight after the seventh round when he believes Tunney's speed will be gone. "Who knows?" he bursted. "Maybe Tunney will be made to order for me from the very first."

In Madison Square Garden an anxious promoter, already perturbed at the possibility of a financial loss, snarled at the thought that an airplane might not arrive.

For it was through the air that Gene Tunney of Greenwich Village, first heavyweight champion ever bred on sidewalks of New York, chose to return to his native city for his fifteen round bout with Tom Heeny, the gentle New Zealand blacksmith, in the Yankee Stadium tonight. It was a manner of approach from Speculator, N. Y., befitting a champion who has defied every other tradition of the ring.

TENNIS FANS IN FRANCE PLEASED; TILDEN IS BACK

Ambassador Herrick is Responsible For His Reinstatement

Paris, July 26-(AP)—William T. Tilden will open the challenge round battle for the Davis Cup with Rene Lacoste of France tomorrow at 2 p. m.

The second singles match will be between Henri Cochet, France, and John Hennessey, United States, at 4 p. m.

Paris, July 26-(AP)—"Big Bill" Tilden's international tennis future rests upon the outcome of his singles matches against Rene Lacoste and Henri Cochet in the Davis Cup challenge round, starting tomorrow. The lanky Philadelphiaian reinstated for play against the French defenders after he had been disbarred because of alleged ineligibility, said today that unless he came through his matches against the two top-ranking French aces, with "flying colors" he was through with international competition.

"I am glad to be given the chance to play my last Davis Cup matches with the United States," Tilden told the Associated Press today. "If I don't come through these next two battles with flying colors, I am through. I never will play international tennis again."

Tilden's disqualification on the grounds of ineligibility had come on the grounds that he violated the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association by his newspaper articles on the British championships at Wimbledon where he was a competitor.

The pairings for the opening singles encounters in the challenge round pit Tilden against his old nemesis, Lacoste in the feature match tomorrow. Johnny Hennessey, outstanding American player in the inter-zone finals against Italy, meets Cochet in the other match. The Cochet-Hennessey battle is not regarded as the attention it ordinarily would from French fans who believe the Tilden-Lacoste match will furnish the real indication as to whether the French color is to successfully defend the cup it won at Germantown last year.

The Tilden-Lacoste match is set for 2 o'clock. Hennessey and Cochet will take the courts two hours later. Neither the French nor the Americans have made up their minds as to the make-up of their double teams.

Paris, July 26-(AP)—The French tennis fans, and most of the people of France are now included in that class, were looking forward today with a feeling of relief and expectancy, to the Davis Cup challenge round between France and the United States which will be played in the Roland Garros Stadium at Auteuil starting tomorrow. After days of doubts and surprises, it has finally been decided that France shall have the pleasure of seeing Big

Planned Atlantic Flight

Pilots Bert R. J. Hassell (left) of Rockford, Ill., and Parker D. Cramer of the United States Bureau of Aeronautics. They took off this morning in the plane "Greater Rockford" but after 26 minutes of flight, crashed six miles from town. They could not gain altitude because of their heavy load of fuel. They had planned to fly to Stockholm, Sweden.

Bill Tilden at the head of the American forces.

With Tilden's reinstatement France is looking for one of the most brilliant displays of tennis that ever has been seen in this country.

Herrick Responsible
In accomplishing the reinstatement of Tilden where all others had failed, Ambassador Herrick succeeded in scoring one of his greatest diplomatic triumphs. In his first venture into the diplomacy of the world of sport he endeavored himself still more to the French people.

The Ambassador realized that the withdrawal of Tilden from the American team caused much disappointment not only to France but to sportsmen of all countries that it brought the incident within the realm of international politics.

He readily agreed when approached by the French committee to use his good offices in trying to settle the incident to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Cullom Accedes
Convinced by the arguments advanced by Herrick, President Samuel H. Cullom of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, agreed to take the responsibility of putting Tilden back in his place on the team. This decision did not appear to cause him any acute distress when it was made and in any case he must have felt amply repaid by the relief of his French colleagues, amounting almost to radiant joy, when news of the decision was communicated to them.

As soon as the news of Tilden's reinstatement became known there was a rush of customers to the box office. Many of those who had cancelled their orders for tickets returned trying to have them renewed, while many others were making a bid for the best seats.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers seem to have solved the problem with everybody in the American League, save only Jacob Ruppert daily seeking ways and means to halt the Yankee out-pace, the humble Tigers stepped to the plate with their own version, and made it more convincing by rolling the champions of the world in the dust of Navin Field twice in the same afternoon.

The slogan of the Tigers henceforth will be: "Make the Yankees travel and the league will take care of itself."

Suspecting that some twenty hours on the Paulmans from Boston had affected the champions, the Tigers innocently enough won the first game of a double-header by 3 to 2, with this task accomplished so neatly, the home boys became bolder in the second engagement, which they snatched from the leaders by 10 to 7.

While these unbelievable events were taking place in Detroit the Athletics were winning two from the White Sox, and by this act cutting two games from the lead of the Yankees.

The A's took the opener yesterday by the disgraceful score of 16 to 0, but appeased themselves more politely by 8 to 7 in the second clash.

The Indians won two games from the Red Sox, 10 to 2 and 15 to 5. An investigation probably will be held today. One of the immediate effects was that Douglas Taft, Boston outfielder, mistook himself for a pitcher, and behaved more like one than any body else who tossed them up for the Red Sox in the two games.

The Brown's noble third-placers, removed two contests from the possession of the unsuspecting Senators, one by 12 to 8 and another by 6 to 5 in twelve innings.

Still unconvinced that the Giants are going to land anywhere but on top, John J. McGraw once more put down the Pirates, 6 to 5. Home runs by Fred Lindstrom and "Shanty" Hogan accounted for four New York runs, and more than offset the worth of a similar drive by George Grant-ham with one on base.

The Cardinals knew they would have trouble losing to the Robins by any ordinary method, so they kicked a pile of eight unearned runs into the ample lap of big Jim Elliott in the fourth round. Jim showed his appreciation by winning, 8 to 1.

The leading St. Louisans lost no ground to the runner-up Cubs, who succeeded in dropping one of the Braves, 3 to 1, in spite of Hack Wilson's twenty-third home run.

Cincinnati dashed off with the first game in Philadelphia, 16 to 5, only to see the furious Phils rise from their graves long enough to take the second, 7 to 6. Donald Hurst hit two home runs for the Quakers.

NEW DIRECTORS OF BIBLE CONFERENCE NAMED BY BOARD

Dixon Member Has New Plan for Financing The Conference

The Directors of the Rock River Bible Conference was enlarged at the close of this year's sessions by the addition of three new members: The Rev. Irving Fox, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Freeport, J. C. Griffith, Contractor, of Ashton, and A. L. Livingston, salesman, Dixon. At the Annual Meeting of the Directors in October, when the Administrative Officers are elected, other Directors will likely be added, since there is a feeling that the area of representation on the Board should be broadened.

Pres. W. W. Marshall, prince of optimists, led the Conference Board in outlining local plans for the next year. Heat, mosquitoes, and rain, he explained, hindered the attendance this season considerably, so that the record of total numbers and offerings was not equal to those of the previous year. Financially, the receipts did not entirely meet the budget cost, plus the accrued deficit from the year before.

A. L. Livingston of Dixon, who has accepted the leadership in a move to lift the Rock River Bible Conference from debt, and attempt its permanent funding.

New Financing Plan
Meanwhile A. L. Livingston, recently elected Board member, has been appointed to inaugurate a new business policy, viz., to fund the Conference in advance, and thus avoid the emphasis on offerings during the Tabernacle sessions. Mr. Livingston represents not only a request of the laymen on the Board, for the elimination of the public solicitations, which have frequently delayed and shortened the speaker's time, but also a challenge that the present shortage in funds of the Conference be fully met before engaging the 1929 speakers and other leaders. He was himself one of the hardest workers for the Conference just closed, present at every session, and has enthusiastically accepted the leadership of the effort to give to the Bible Conference idea an adequate foundation for future years.

Already responses are most encouraging, and by the October Business Meeting when Dr. Zartman Director, is expected to report the draft of the Program for the 1929 Program, Mr. Livingston and his Associates hope to have the deficit entirely removed, and considerable underwriting assured for the next year's expenses.

Obregon, Dying, Brought to Door of His Home

Here is the first picture of the Obregon assassination in Mexico City to reach the United States. It shows the automobile, transporting the dying president-elect of Mexico, arriving at the door of Obregon's home, after the shooting in the Cafe La Bombilla in San Angel, Mexico City suburb. A few seconds after this picture was taken, Obregon died as he was being removed from the automobile. The picture was rushed to the border by special courier and flown by night from Laredo, Texas to Houston. At Houston it was placed on another special plane which carried it to St. Louis, whence the telephoto flashed it all over the country.

BUREAU CO. TO CELEBRATE ITS 100TH BIRTHDAY

Centennial Fete to be Held in County Seat on August 1, 2

Princeton, Ill., July 26—(AP)—Stalking across the years, pioneer figures of Bureau county will live once again, in pantomime, at the county's centennial celebration here August 1-2.

Depicting in dance and tableau the story of a hundred years' progress, residents of the Bureau county of today will for a time portray the days and ways of their forefathers. "Redskins" and trappers, tillers of the soil and soldiers will march across the tableau stage.

Following the history of the county since its birth in 1828, the tableau will open with a scene in the life of the Indians. Black Hawk and his crafty Lieutenant, Girty, will be prominent figures in this scene. Then will come the pioneers, with a symbolic dance showing them conquering the forest, pestilence and hardships, heaving Bureau county out of clay, soil and timber.

One of the most famous of the "old timers" of Bureau county, Dad Joe Smith, "the man who died without an enemy," will be portrayed in several of the scenes. Seated in his tavern, attending a pioneer wedding, and fighting the hostile Indians, Dad Joe's career will be portrayed as typical of the county's first settlers.

Through the Civil War, with its underground railway which ran through Bureau county; through the first church service, and down through the years to the World War and Bureau county's contribution, the story will be carried, ending with a pageant symbolizing the spirit of America. Nearly 700 will take part in the performance.

As a guest of honor, General John J. Pershing has been asked to attend the centennial. The invitation was extended by Mrs. H. M. McKee of Princeton, a cousin of the World War leader.

Fifty American Legion drum corps have been invited to compete for prizes, and if General Pershing attends he will be asked to judge the contest.

As a part of the two-day centennial, residents of Bureau county will resurrect their most treasured mementos of other days for display. A souvenir booklet is to be printed listing the relics, which will be constantly guarded.

One of the most valuable displays to be shown at the celebration will be the collection of arrowheads, owned by E. H. Marriott of LaMoille. Other relics, from family snuff boxes to spinning wheels, are being discovered each day to add to the fast growing collection, which will be shown at the county fair grounds here.

Not only from Princeton but from every other community in Bureau county recruits are to be drawn to take part in the tableau and pageant. In Buda, Neponset, Wyanet, Bureau and Dover, rehearsals are held nightly in preparation for the event. Five bands from as many towns will play, and a small symphony orchestra is to be formed at Spring Valley.

A group of eleven girls—a queen and ten attendants—will preside over the pageant. Lucile E. Blake, student at Knox college, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Blake of Tiskilwa, will be queen.

BEST OF WOMEN FLIERS GIVES UP PLANES FOR HOME

Katherine Stinson to Devote Herself to Housekeeping

By NEA Service
Santa Fe, N. M.—Katherine Stinson who from 1912 to 1918 was one of the greatest aviators in the world, probably never will fly again.

The women who once held both the duration and long distance flight record has retired to private life and is now living in Santa Fe, the wife of M. A. Otero, Jr., state auditor of New Mexico and himself an accomplished aviator.

In 1918, Miss Stinson tried to enter the American air forces as a pursuit pilot. Rejected on account of her sex, she took to driving an ambulance in France. This broke her health, and for several years she was an invalid. Only recently has her health returned, and now that it has she is content to let her famous brother, Eddie Stinson, of Detroit, do the flying for the family.

But although she is out of the game, she does not feel envious of the women who are winning fame as fliers. She used to dream of flying the Atlantic, in the days when airplanes and engines capable of making the trip had not yet been built; and here is how she describes her reaction to the accomplishment of Amelia Earhart.

Has No Regrets
"When I first entered a sanitarium here," she says, "my room faced a tall mountain peak. For weeks I had an insatiable desire to climb to the top of that peak. But after gazing at it for two or three years and thinking about it each day and realizing how impractical it was for me, I found that all desire actually to climb it had left me."

The same is true about flying across the Atlantic, I had thought so much about it and realized how impractical it was for me that I simply decided to forget it, that's all."

"Please understand that such problems, through personal necessity ceased to interest me, as an aviator, years ago. But I'm still an enthusiastic as ever over the progress of aviation, especially woman's part in it. Only I have other problems now. One of them—turning and gazing about the garden in which she was giving the interview—"is to discover how that flower bed became trampled down."

Housekeeping Like Flying
When the reporter arrived to interview Katherine Stinson, she was busily engaged in mending a broken screen. When the reporter commented on the great contrast between flying an airplane and keeping house, Mrs. Otero remarked:

"There isn't as much contrast as you would think. You see, as a housewife I am repairing this screen. As an aviator I often spent hours at a time working on the fabric of my airplane wings after they had been damaged in forced landings or otherwise. I think my early training prepared me for my present duties."

Sometime ago Mrs. Otero became interested in the architecture of the Pueblo Indians and of the early Spanish missions. She built several apartments on one of Santa Fe's queer, narrow, winding streets, modeling them after the early styles and most of her time now is devoted to keeping those apartments in condition and in making additions and improvements as new ideas occur to her.

It is such things that interest her now. Talking to her would never give one hint that her name was once a household word. She is modest, reserved and courteous; somehow it is hard to imagine her flying at all. Yet at the height of her career her achievements were known all over the world.

Made Many Records
She was the 148th person to become a licensed pilot in America. Few living people hold lower license numbers. When she sailed aloft one night in California and, with magnesium flares, traced a series of letters against the black sky, she accomplished something no flyer had ever done. She was, incidentally, the first person of either sex to fly at night, the fourth to loop the loop, and the first to fly in the Orient.

Coogan Home Peaceful Again

Here are Mrs. Jack Coogan, Mr. Coogan (left) and Arthur Bernstein after Judge McComb of the Los Angeles superior court had dismissed Mrs. Bernstein's $750,000 heart balm suit against the mother of the boy film star, Mrs. Bernstein had charged alienation of her husband's affection by Mrs. Coogan. Bernstein, Jackie Coogan's business manager, denied his wife's charges and has obtained a divorce from her.

She conducted a flying school in Texas before the World War, and when the American army sent a punitive expedition into Mexico to capture Villa she volunteered to go along as aviator. Her application was turned down, but she had the satisfaction of knowing that most of the pilots who did go were men she had taught how to fly.

When this government entered the war she made herself useful in every way possible. Her most noteworthy flight was a trip from Buffalo to Washington in the interest of the Red Cross, in which she made various stops en route to pick up checks totaling $2,000,000 in value.

IOWA VIOLIN-MAKERS SHOP MUSIC LOVERS' RENDEZVOUS
Des Moines, (AP)—The Des Moines shop where Gustave Bloom's skillful fingers fashion violins has an old world atmosphere of artistic friendliness. Bloom brought his art from Sweden and he is a violin maker for celebrities.

He is known throughout the United States and as he piles his trade his workshop often is the scene of animated discussions on music and the arts.

The first violin Bloom made in 1897 may still be seen in his show case. He will not part with it.

Violin making according to one of Bloom's confidants, Prof. Franz Kuschans, head of the department of theory and cello of Drake University, has not changed much since ancient days. It remains a calling of little remunerative possibilities.

"Whether the delights afforded by the violin, and that includes other members of the family—the viola and cello, and, to a limited extent, the double bass—be measured by the highest standards set by famous artists, or whether such pleasure be derived from personal indulgence, the fact that such pleasure is not possible until a violin is an actuality, is significant, and that brings us to contentment the maker."

"Great violin makers of the past were mostly men who worked in seclusion and who lost themselves in their work. Their only concern was to build a good violin that would be not only an instrument of utility but also a thing of beauty."

Who's Who in Dogdom—No. 8
Brussels Griffon—He is Sample of Queerness

There are queer looking dogs in this world. Some of them look more like monkeys than like dogs. Some have heads like wizened chimpanzees, others faces like owls.

Take the Griffon Bruxellois. Translated, the name of this dog is Brussels Griffon. It looks stranger than some mangy alley cur and still it is of blue blood, included in the list of recognized breeds of the kennel clubs of the civilized world and entered in the stud books where all blue-blooded dogs have their pedigrees kept.

Terrier Blood

As the name implies, the dog is a product of Brussels, Belgium. While it originated in Brussels, the breeds employed in manufacturing the Brussels Griffon were all English and included the Yorkshire Terrier, Irish Terrier and Ruby Spaniel.

Queer as it looks the Brussels Griffon, a dog that rarely weighs more than six or seven pounds, is extremely popular among aristocrats in the United States, as well as in England.

After the dog was introduced into England there was a rush for the dog dealers, and they were commissioned to pick up all good specimens.

High Prices

They scoured Belgium and bought the best obtainable, often paying fabulous prices for what were regarded as good ones. It seems that the queerer the dog looked the higher price he brought.

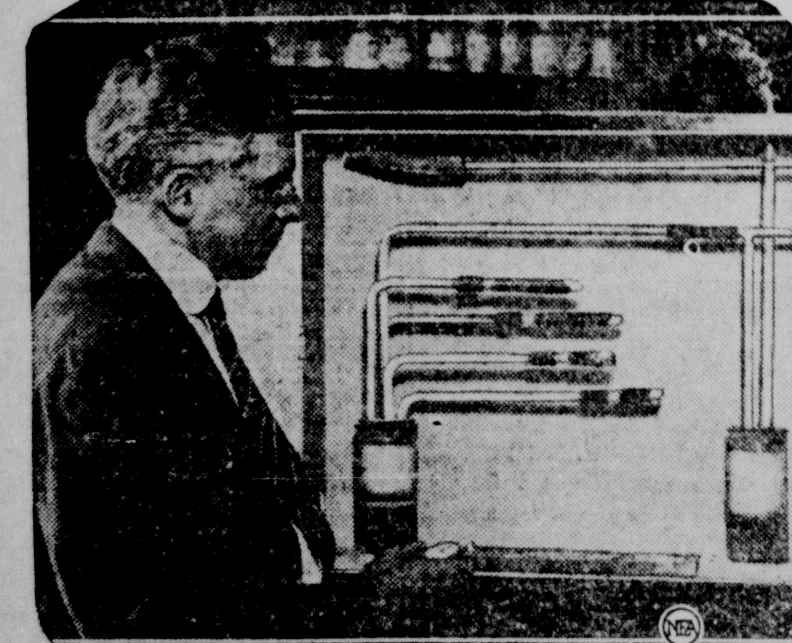

Since the introduction of the breed into this country the same has been true, and many a fat purse has been considerably lightened to add a Brussels Griffon to the livestock holdings of the mistress for the Brussels Griffon does not appeal to men. It is strictly a woman's dog.

Fairest Daughter of Old Kentucky

Besides the titles of "Dance Queen" and "Miss Lexington," Miss Virginia Mae Hendrick of Lexington, Ky., the other day was chosen as the state's fairest daughter. She was crowned "Miss Kentucky" by Governor Flem D. Sampson.

Hoople Could Do This Blindfolded

This new device of the Department of Agriculture, which smokes four cigars simultaneously, almost equals the recent record of Major Amos Hoople, who smoked five at a time, blindfolded, in designating his favorite rope for the cigar advertising people. The device compares the burning quality and ash of various cigars to determine the best smoke. F. L. Goll is working it.

of anything more.

Lila insisted upon helping her furnish the shop. "You can use my credit at the shops," she proposed; "you'll have to hunt around to get just the right things."

She accompanied Bertie Lou on several shopping expeditions to exclusive decorators and furniture dealers. "Oh, this is what you want," here and "that's just the very thing for your guest room," there, until Bertie Lou had almost unconsciously run up a number of rather large bills at several expensive houses.

But it was well worth while, she thought. The apartment was beautiful. And had she not heard Cyrus and Rod discussing the value of credit?

Even wealthy people, Cyrus had said, bought motor cars on the deferred payment plan. But what Bertie Lou failed to realize was that these people in taking advantage of this policy were inspired by motives other than merely acquiring a car. . . . It meant something to conserve their cash for use in their own enterprises. . . . the returns would be far greater than the interest they paid to the automobile finance companies.

Bertie Lou really believed it to be a sound policy to create an impression of affluence, even if it were necessary to plunge Rod into debt. And being in debt now was entirely different from being in debt during the days of their penuriousness.

IN THIS saturnalia of extravagance Rod found himself unable to save. They were merely living on a higher scale, he complained. Bertie Lou said yes, but once the bills were paid their account at the bank would grow like a dandelion. The first real party Bertie Lou ROD signed the lease on the dotted line for the new place, though he said he wished they were moving into their own home instead.

Bertie Lou seemed to have forgotten all their earlier plans for a home. Her life was filled with satisfaction over the present. Care had taken his black shadow off their portal. They had money for a good time and good clothes; health and a lot of joy friends. Bertie Lou was too happy in the new apartment with the glass-enclosed shower and sunken tub, the many-mirrored dressing rooms, and the wood-burning fireplace to dream

The second layer of the skin, which we learned was the dermis, is composed of connective tissues richly supplied with blood vessels, capillaries, lymphatic vessels and nerves. The surface of the true skin just underneath the epidermis presents a curious appearance like little mountain peaks, caused by the papillae, which contain blood vessels for nourishing the derma and the live cells of the outer skin.

Some of these little peaks or papillae contain the touch corpuscles. In some parts of our skin these touch papillae are thicker than in the other parts. They are most thickly grouped on the end of our tongue and next at the finger tips. We can distinguish two objects as being separate, even though they are very close together, by touching them with these areas of our body. In some spots of our skin these touch corpuscles are so far apart that two objects even from one to two inches apart cannot be distinguished from a single object. If you wish to prove this, take two of your fingers about an inch and a half apart and touch your back. In all probability you will be unable to distinguish more than one point of pressure.

In the lower part of the dermis and in the layers immediately under the true skin, large quantities of fat are stored. This gives the skin a plump and smooth appearance.

If you examine your skin with a magnifying glass, you will see large numbers of small pores or openings in the skin. These are the mouths of the sweat glands which are little tubes composed of the same kind of cells as the epidermis but adapted for their special function.

A sweat gland tube goes through the dermis and ends in a little coil in the dermis or in the sub-dermal layer. The functions of these glands are to cool off the body by producing perspiration and to discharge waste products. In some parts of the skin these sweat glands are very close together. There are as many as 2,500 to the square inch. While some perspiration is being continually discharged through these sweat glands, the amount is usually so small that it passes off in vapor without being noticed, but on a hot day the amount discharged may be so abundant as to produce heavy beads of sweat. It may be interesting to you to know that all of the skin structures are produced by evolving skin cells which have been grown and developed into special functions. This includes the hair, sweat glands, oil glands, and finger-nails.

Brittle fingernails and rough scaly skin are caused by a lack of certain mineral elements in our food materials, and it is interesting to observe the improvement of the complexion of the individuals who eat the right kind of foods. In fact, it would be a good plan for all beauty specialists to become dietitians.

One of the best ways for keeping the skin healthy is to use cold shower or sponge baths. This stimulates the little muscles in the skin to contract, and really provides these muscles with exercise. In almost every case, when a hot bath is taken, it should be followed by a cold one to temporarily close the pores of the skin and counteract the relaxation caused by the heat. Rubbing vigorously with a dry towel will also increase the circulation to the skin and can be used to advantage following the cold bath.

If you will keep your skin healthy at all times, you will encourage elimination, and your body will function better in every way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS*QUESTION: Mrs. K. J. asks: "What would cause a baby's legs to cramp and draw back at the knees?"ANSWER: Any time a baby's legs cramp or begin to draw back it is liable to be a symptom of some dangerous spinal irritation, such as infantile paralysis or cerebrosplinal meningitis. Some symptoms in a baby should be immediately reported to your doctor who can best tell you what to do.QUESTION: Mrs. J. asks: "Are there any fruits which do not contain acid? If all contain acid, does cooking destroy it? I would like to eat fruits but cannot if they contain acid, so I am very desirous of knowing which fruits do not contain acid, either cooked or uncooked."ANSWER: Fruit acids are changed somewhat by cooking. Also, dried fruits have less acid than when fresh. Many people are afraid of using fruit because of the acid, but could do so if they understood how to use the fruits properly. It is better to use only the stewed fruits with meals and take fresh fruits by themselves, making an entire meal of one kind of fruit. Practically all fruits contain some acid, but because of their effect upon increasing the flow of bile, their final reaction in the body is alkaline. If you have over-acidity of the stomach, you will find that a fruit fast of a few days will greatly benefit you.QUESTION: Alice asks: "What is the cause and cure of low blood pressure? What are the different stages and effects of symptoms?"

ANSWER: When a person has low blood pressure it simply means that he or she is enervated, and that the bodily tissues lack tone. There is a general weakness felt, and a lessening of all functions. The cure is to cultivate strength. This is accomplished by dieting carefully and exercising vigorously.TEMPERANCE HILL

OPEN TRIAL OF $133,000 TRAIN LOOT SUSPECTS*"Limpy" Cleaver and Ex-Congressman are on Trial

Chicago, July 25—(AP)—The task of selecting a jury to try former Congressman Charles S. Wharton and Charles "Limpy" Cleaver, highway robber, on charges of conspiracy and robbery growing out of the $133,000 Grand Trunk train holdup last winter was begun in federal court today before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

A motion of Wharton's counsel for a separate trial was overruled along with motions to quash the indictment and a demurrer to the conspiracy charge. Wharton's plea of not guilty had been withdrawn but was re-entered after the motions were overruled.

The former Congressman and Assistant State's Attorney was a non-chalant prisoner, going about the court room chatting with his friends. In contrast to "Limpy" Cleaver, the once desperate gang leader shot 16 times when re-captured after breaking from jail, who sat quietly under heavy guard, watching the proceedings. He had no attorney in court.

Cleaver is accused of leading the robber gang in the holdup of the money train last February, while Wharton is accused of conspiracy in the robbery, under charges of having aided the robbers after the holdup.

CANADIANS FIND POWERFUL RADIO STATION HIDDEN*Dynamite and Rifles Uncovered in Raid on Secret Station

Quebec, July 25—(AP)—The mystery of a powerful radio station which interfered with the reception of programs from licensed stations in the United States and Canada has been solved, but another mystery in connection with it today threatened international complications.

Investigators from the department of justice discovered the unlicensed radio station in a house in Sillery, a Quebec suburb, and also a large quantity of dynamite and a stock of rifles. The radio station, they said, was capable of communicating with European capitals.

Auguste Nelra, 63, and his son Arsene, 21, were arrested and charged with illegal possession of explosives. Arsene also was charged with the theft of radio equipment from the Canadian Marconi Company. The two pleaded guilty and were held without bail pending a further investigation.

Arsene Nelra, police said, was born in Lemberg, but has been a resident of Quebec for 19 years.

BIG BEN'S CHIME SOUNDS HERE BEFORE IN LONDON

Atlanta—(AP)—Setting the timepieces by the gong of London's "Big Ben" before the gong is heard by pedestrians on London's streets is a novelty enjoyed by citizens of Atlanta.

The transmission of the chime is made possible through a special set designed by Francis R. Hoyt, of Atlanta, for amplifying low wave radio signals.

Mr. Hoyt receives the Big Ben signals from the House of Parliament in London at 4 p. m. Atlanta time, each day, or 10 p. m. London time, as broadcast by the British station G-55W in Chelmsford. The signals are clearly audible on a loud speaker.

Due to the respective speeds of electrical waves and sound waves the listener in Atlanta within a radius of 50 feet of the loud speaker hears the bell before his British brother on the sidewalks of London. This is due to the fact that the Big Ben bell, weighing thirteen and a half tons, is nearly 350 feet above the sidewalk. The sound of the bell requires one-third of a second to reach sidewalk listeners, while its radio transmission to Atlanta is completed in less than one-fiftieth of a second.
